

Changing Lanes (2005)

Changing Lanes is like a ride through musical space. It comprises of alternating movements featuring string quartet and 4 channel surround sound electronic tape. The sound material for the tape is composed out of prerecorded and manipulated fragments of the string quartet, which coloristically and thematically unifies the entire work.

Krzysztof Wolek